

Discover how Planned Giving can be a blessing to your family and the ministries you care about.

Planned giving is a joyful response to what the Lord has entrusted to you. It allows you to make the very best gifts to family and ministry. You can rest assured knowing your wishes will be honored and your earthly assets will be passed on in a way that makes sense and is helpful to those people and organizations you hold most dear.

Learn more about how your estate may encourage the faith of your family and loved ones by contacting Linda Gage, your sister in Christ and LWML Gift Planning Counselor, today.

How Planned Giving can help you

1. Making plans to provide for your minor children through your will and estate plan is critical. It avoids straining relationships with family regarding who will provide for your children and how.
2. After your children leave your home is a wonderful opportunity to plan for the next phase of your life by reviewing and updating your plan.
3. Statistics show 75% of married women will be a widow someday. As you move forward in this stage of your life, it's important to review your will and estate plan.
4. With retirement comes changing assets. It's a best practice to review your current plan every couple of years.
5. Single individuals want to have a will and estate plan that makes gifts to family members and the ministries they love in a way that will be a blessing.

How can Linda help?

1. I don't have a will/trust.
I would like some help in getting started.
2. I have a will/trust.
It needs to be reviewed and maybe updated.
3. My current will/trust is fine,
but I have other items to discuss.
